GENERAL NEWS.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.)

Presidential Reception.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Complete arrangements have been made for the reception of the presidential party on Tuesday. They will arrive at 8 A. M., and will be greeted by a battery salute and escorted to the Grand Pacific Hotel by the military. About noon the president will review a great procession of firemen from the balcony of the Exposition building. In the afternoon there will be a lake excursion and a ride to the parks. In the evening the president and Mrs. Hayes will give a grand reception at the Grand Pacific, and on Wednesday morning leave for St. Paul over the Northwestern railway. A number of prominent dignitaries will accompany the party from Chicago.

J. Madison Wells to the Front.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—J. Madison Wells announces that he is an independent candidate for congress in the fourth district of Louisiana. He says to the voters of the district:

"In doing this I forbear none of my well known professions as a Republican, but address myself as a native Louisianian to Louisianians, who are in a large measure weary of fruitless promises and ludicrous designs of old straight out Democracy, and who desire to avail themselves of more effectual instrumentalities to rebuild their commonwealth and to compass statis harmony between all classes within her border. For years a member of the old Whig party, whose unceasing demand for internal improvements became one of the tenets of the Republican party has been combatted by the Democracy of the canon to the present hour. I adhere to my life long conviction that Louisiana needs and should have such liberal appropriations of national moneys as may quicken her to the development and prosperity which many of the western states much younger than Louisiana have under a liberal Republican policy been permitted to command. A protective system of levees to save from overflow our alluvial lands in the Mississippi valley and the completion of the Texas Pacific Railroads are objects of special importance, yet they can never be attained save by Republican representatives in congress.

To Timber Despoilers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The N. Y. Tribune's Washington special says: By direction of the secretary of the interior, and in response to many letters from officials and others, the commissioners of the general land office have prepared and will shortly issue a circular charging trespasses upon government timber lands. The circular contains a review of the act of congress providing for the sale of timber lands in the States of California, Oregon, Nevada and Washington Territory, and authorizing citizens of Nevada, Colorado and the territories to cut timber on the public domain for mining and domestic purposes, and says that the penalty provided in these acts will hereafter be enforced in all cases where timber is cut for export or sale or wantonly destroyed. Instructions are given to the agents of the land office to make periodical examinations of lands in their districts and report to the commissioner all instances of violation of the laws, together with the names of witnesses, in order that proceedings may be instituted against depredators.

Forest Fires.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—The Tribune's St. Paul special says: Gen. James H. Baker returning yesterday from the north shore of Lake Superior, reports forest fires extending almost continuously for 160 miles. The fires started near Duluth and spread back of Beaver bay, Grand Mare and Horshoe bay. He also confirmed the reports of new silver discoveries at Silver Lake and brings rich specimens of gold and silver ores.

Advance in Freights.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The Pacific Mail Steamship Company will to-morrow issue the new tariff advancing their rates to apply between New York and the Union and Central Pacific railroads.

A Bloody Row.

OMAHA, Sept. 2.—Last night between 11 and 12 o'clock, a bloody and free fight took place in that portion of the city known as Bohemian town, in which half a dozen were engaged, using knives and clubs. The result was that Anton Kotiza was stabbed in the throat and died almost instantly, John Lewis was perhaps fatally cut in the back, Patrick Quinlan was seriously stabbed in the neck and shoulder, and a man named "Zenennuk" was stabbed in the shoulder. Kotiza walked from the scene of conflict into Bohemian hall where a dance was in progress, asked for a glass of water and then fell on the floor and died, causing great excitement. Anton Maestrick, Patrick Quinlan and George Rider were arrested for being implicated in the affray. At the coroner's inquest to-day Quinlan, who was wounded, was discharged while Maestrick and Rider were held for trial, the evidence against Maestrick being strong. He is probably the murderer of Kotiza and wounded all the others.

The Barley Crop.

MILWAUKIE, Sept. 2.—A commission firm has reliable reports from the northwestern states showing that the barley crop is seriously injured, and that there will be no No. 2 on account of wet weather during harvest. The acreage is reported 50 per cent less.

Custom House Investigation.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The custom house committee appointed by congress, Fernando Wood chairman, organized to-day and will begin its inquiries to-morrow. Mr. Wood submitted a letter from Secretary Sherman stating that he regarded the inquiry as important to the public service. He hoped to personally attend during the meeting of the sub committee with a view to promote inquiry in every possible way completeness of work proposed, and also offering to the committee full information within his department and directing the customs officers at New York to furnish the committee every facility for carrying on the investigations. Mr. Wood then read a letter of his own to Collector Merritt, setting forth that the scope of the proposed inquiry will cover all such matters as the resolutions will authorize. The precise points of investigation will relate to the practical "entry of merchandise, method of payment of duties, examination of invoices and of valuation in appraisement, system adopted for refunds, bonding system, practicability of consolidating the departments or divisions and placing the whole machinery under one head so as to secure more efficiency, less complication and less cost of collection.

New York Bankruptcies.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The petitions in bankruptcy filed here yesterday number 304; the grand total since the law was established, 7,550.

MEXICO.

The Zona Libra Abolished.

GALVESTON, Sept. 2.—A special from Rio Grande city says yesterday an edict went into effect, abolishing the zona libra except as to Matamoras and New Laredo, and prohibiting commercial intercourse at other points. The people on the Mexican side are much exasperated, especially at Camaya and Miet, and have sent a violent and threatening protest to the central government.

An Old "Southern Idea."

At a Democratic meeting the other day at Edgefield, South Carolina, Gen. Gary, one of the bull-dosing crowd, gave the key note of southern campaigning in the following words:

As far back as 1871 I announced in a speech made in the Democratic convention held in my humble judgment, the mistake that our leaders were making was in considering the differences between the negro and white man a difference of politics, instead of a difference in point of race—that whenever the Caucasian decided to take issue the negro had to go with his race, as the ruler of the universe had made him a race under the dominance of all the rest. In 1876 this same idea was more clearly the state Democratic platform.

The Marquis of Lorne is extremely rich, and in addition will receive $10,000 a year as governor general of Canada.

Death's Work.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 1.—Thomas Marshall and W. W. Reidling, telegraph operators at Grenada, are dead. D. Flannery, ex-superintendent of the W. U. T. Co. at New Orleans, has arrived at Grenada and will keep the office open.

New cases reported to-day, 104; deaths from yellow fever, 76. Among the death list to-night are Capt. J. F. Miller and W. W. White, clerks at the Peabody hotel, Edmonsford.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 1.—New cases 236; deaths 88.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 1.—Weather cloudy and warm to-day, with light shower this afternoon. Three hundred and fifty-three applications for relief were made to the Howards. Members of the visiting committee report more general spread of the fever, and state that they find it encroaching upon localities heretofore measurably exempt.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians make an appeal to similar organizations throughout the United States for assistance. They say the yellow fever is thinning their ranks; the distress is pitiful and their resources exhausted, and appeal in God's name for assistance to alleviate the sufferings of their afflicted brethren. The Lusetarian, Portuguese Benevolent Association and the German Benevolent Association each make similar appeals to their respective organizations throughout the union for assistance.

A dispatch from Dr. Stow at Grenada reports the condition of affairs unchanged.

Undertakers are pressed to bury the dead, and at Elwood lot 15-day dozens of coffined dead were lying on top of the ground waiting for interment, it being a difficult matter to procure grave diggers.

Information from Camp Jo Williams is to the effect that six deaths occurred there of persons recently received into the camp. The camp contains about fifteen sick.

Reports from along the line of the Memphis and Louisville railway state there have been three deaths at Brownsville, and there are seventeen cases there; at Milan twenty cases and four deaths; at Withee one case and at Mason one death.

VICKSBURG, Sept. 2.—Eight physicians report 93 new cases; 25 interments to-day.

PORT GIBSON, Miss., Sept. 2.—Four hundred cases, and 35 deaths out of 550 persons remaining in town. About 1,200 have fled. The distress is very great. The sick are dying with no one to give them a drink of water.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Subscriptions for the yellow fever sufferers to-day are $2,900; total subscriptions to date, $44,637.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 2.—To-day opened clear and with a little force of workers nearly exhausted. The fever continues without any abatement. It is impossible to obtain new cases to noon for the reason that physicians are not required to report before 5 P. M. Undertakers report 48 yellow fever interments up to noon, and indications are that the death list will be as large as yesterday.

A number of negroes, some of them drunk, assembled before the commissary depot this morning and becoming riotous, made a rush for the doors. They were kept back by the colored military on guard, but a second attempt being made the guards fired, killing one negro. The doors were closed and quiet was restored for the time being. The committee is doing all in its power to supply the people with food, but some of the negroes are dissatisfied with the manner in which the rations are distributed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—In response to a dispatch from Memphis asking for nurses with yellow fever experience, twelve ladies and two gentlemen have volunteered their services, and a delegate from the Soldiers' Home offers his services, and three of 65 other soldiers of the Home observers watchmen, police, nurses, or in any other capacity, without compensation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Subscriptions to the yellow fever fund now aggregate upwards of $8,000. Another remittance will be made to-morrow. Eureka, Nevada, sends $450; the Typographical Union of Virginia City $150, and Mechanics' Union $200.

Foolish Custom.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The Times' New Orleans special says there is great complaint made on account of the persistency of Catholic churches in tolling the bells at funerals. The bell of St. Patrick's church, on Camp street, in the center of a badly infected district, repeatedly tolled yesterday and to-day greatly to the discomfort and danger of the sick, on whom the gloomy sound produces a bad effect. The press have called attention to the nuisance, but as yet without effect.

To day every hearse in the city was in active request and the spectacle was presented of friends going out with coffins in wagons.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Public Debt Statement.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The public debt statement for August shows a decrease of $6,475,504.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

The slope going down in the coal mine at Wilkeson reached a depth of 210 feet on Tuesday last, and is progressing at the average rate of two feet per day. It will be finished in about three months.

During August fifteen vessels took coal from Seattle to San Francisco, their cargoes ranging from 338 tons to 2,340, averaging about 1,050 tons each and aggregating over 16,000 tons. This is the biggest month's work yet recorded.

Three men, namely, John Morrissee, C. C. Thomas and Joseph Bartlett, were up before Judge Lacy, of Walla Walla, on Monday of last week, charged with stealing 2,000 head of sheep in Umatilla county, Oregon. After hearing the case, they were bound over in the sum of 5,000, awaiting the requisition from the governor of Oregon.

A Walla Walla paper says that on the 22d ult. a shocking affray took place at the head of the Alpowai, in which Mr. Haven was killed by George France. The trouble apparently was about a piece of school land which France had leased and was putting in with wheat. Mr. Haven came upon the scene with a double barrel shotgun loaded with heavy buckshot. While Mr. W. Lay, who was also present, was scuffling for the gun with deceased, it went off, killing Lay's horse, and France, during the scuffle, coolly put four balls into Haven, who, after twelve hours suffering, expired. France, Lay, and Brooks are now in jail at Dayton. The wife of deceased was also seriously injured in the bloody affray.

OREGON.

A young man who was working with a threshing machine near Jacksonville caught his clothing with the machinery and that he was taken around the shaft a few times and all his clothing torn off except the boots and a handkerchief which was tied about his neck.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

The Invasion of Bosnia.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 2.—According to authentic information direct from Bosnia and Herzegovina, the Austrians are acting with great energy, but at the same time with modification and perfect discipline. Nevertheless reports are circulated that the army of occupation has been guilty of many excesses and cruelties. These accusations bear singular resemblance to the charges brought against the Russian army in Bulgaria and Roumelia. This explains perhaps the change which has recently occurred in the attitude of Austrians in the Rhodope commission. Till a few days ago the Austrian delegate gave his active cooperation in the preparation of the report, but now, to the surprise of his colleagues, he seems indisposed to sign the document. Gen. Todleben, Prince Dondoroff, Korsakoff and other leading Russian officials, say the investigation was evidently made in a biased spirit, and the commission, instead of studying seriously the question of how refugees might be temporarily assisted and ultimately re-established in their homes, occupied itself almost exclusively with collecting ex parte statements for indictment against the Russian army. They declare that the dignity and self-respect of the army and government prevent them from giving serious attention to such transparent calumnies.

Cause of Insurrection.

VIENNA, Sept. 2.—It is said the insurrection at Trebinje was caused by the knowledge that Turkish regulars intended to surrender the citadel to Austrians in obedience to orders from the porte.

BELGRADE, Sept. 1.—According to insurgent advices Gen. Sejary maintains the defensive at Dajab. Austrian reinforcements are constantly arriving. There is a strong insurgent force in his rear near the river Save. Ragusa insurgents and Turkish regulars are fighting at Trebinje, where regulars held the citadel and insurgents demand it.

TREBIZONDE, Sept. 1.—Turkish war material from Batoum is arriving. It is believed a large portion of the Mussulman population of Belgrade will emigrate. 9,000 Lazistan insurgents are advancing along the valley of the river Irdu, burning and pillaging. Dazet Pasha has been commissioned to endeavor to quiet the Lazis.

The Outraged Mussulmans.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 1.—The sultan sent a dispatch to the czar on Aug 27th requesting him to give orders to check outrages on Mussulmen in Roumelia. The Flood in Hungary.

VIENNA, Sept. 2.—Later accounts from Mickalicz, Hungary, state that over 400 corpses have already been recovered, and 250 persons are still missing. At Erlau, about 65 miles from Pesth, the river Eger broke through the wall of the town and whole rows of houses were demolished and many persons drowned.

Rumored New Appointments.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 2.—Several newspapers mention that Count Schouvaloff is about to be appointed chief of the new ministry of police, including the whole "gendarmerie" and police administration; that Prince Orloff will succeed Schouvaloff as ambassador at London that M. Mookuff, ambassador at Vienna, will go to Paris, and that Prince de Oubriell, ambassador at Berlin, will go to Vienna.

Drowned.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Three young ladies, Maggie and Lizzie Lee and Ada Edwards, were drowned at Pembroke Saturday.

Binetallism Opposed in France.

There is great opposition in France to any further engagements in behalf of bimetalism. The following extracts, from an article by Victor Bonnet, in the Revue les Deux Mondes, show the spirit of the opposition:

The time is very badly chosen to persuade us to use silver again, as formerly. Every attempt in this direction would be vain. The government without declaring the principle of a gold standard, has already guarded against the greatest dangers by forbidding the coinage of silver, and it is to day in excellent condition for adopting the gold standard. Let the Americans lug their folly alone; they will gain, perhaps, forty or fifty millions (of francs) a year in paying their interest in silver dollars, but they will soon lose it in receiving the same money for duties and taxes. And then what will be their situation with the rest of the world when the change is made? They do not sufficiently consider this side of the question when they adopt a kind of money which is not that used by the rest of the world. This is the most important. In fact, at home, if we have a depreciated currency, all the payments are made in it; we pay less and receive less, and the transactions balance each other. It is not the same with foreign trade. The foreigner will accept in payment of a trade balance only that kind of money which is current at his own home, and if this money is gold you must pay him gold for bar the loss of the exchange. This loss may be very great. Before 1848, when we had only silver in France to pay our debts to England, and exchange was unfavorable for us, the pound sterling was sometimes worth 25f. 60c. instead of 25f. 20c. and 25f. 22c., which was the highest price with gold in circulation; it would to-day be worth 26f. at the present price of silver. Moreover, the Americans know this very well by their own experience. They have twice had exciting panics from the green-back question, with other methods and their state has varied in their inquiry according to the extent of this experience.

Eddie, the little son of M. S and Adelia McHugh, was drowned in the Siuslaw river, while fishing, on Friday, August 23d.

THE SILVER DOLLAR A FAILURE.

[From the New York Times.]

The persistent efforts which the treasury is making to get the silver dollars into circulation, and the very moderate degree of success with which those efforts have been crowned, would seem to indicate that the public banking after that venerable coin is no so great as its advocates have represented. Although the department has gone to the very verge of the law in offering to furnish the dollars to depository banks throughout the country free of charge for transportation, the demand from this source is said to have reached only about $300,000 a week. Even this demand is due partly to the novelty of using coin and partly to the willingness of the banks, as fiscal agents of the department, to aid it in carrying out its policy of forcing the coins into circulation. As soon as the novelty of handling coin wears off the demand will cease, for the plain reason that there is no place in the circulation for such a coin. Why should any one load himself down with it for the purpose? During the eighty years from 1793 to 1873, during which the coinage was unrestricted, only $8,045,233 in silver dollars were issued from the mint. The annual coinage of the coin out of the use of which, according to its worshipers, the people were so basely cheated, during the period when any person could take his silver bullion to the mint and have it converted into dollars, was, it appears, only one hundred thousand dollars. And to right this great wrong congress has made it obligatory on the government to issue from three to four millions of silver dollars a month—or from thirty to forty times the annual amount coined when coinage was unrestricted.

The experience already had is sufficient to show how wild and extravagant were the notions of those who predicted that the passage of the silver bill would set in motion throughout the land the rusting wheels of industry. So far as its effect on the business operations or financial condition of the country has thus far been manifested, it is absolutely nil. A few millions, just how many it does not appear from the treasury statements of certificates representing the precious dollars, have been paid out for silver bullion, and have been paid in again for coats and dues, while the dollars have all the while reposed undisturbed in the vaults of the treasury. But this process can be of no benefit to the business interests of the country, save the single interest of silver mining. Its only apparent effect has been to pile up silver instead of gold in the treasury vaults. To the extent to which the operation has gone, it has driven abroad gold which would have flowed into the treasury in payment of dues and has forced upon the treasury the silver which would otherwise have been exported.

The treasury is just now so strong in gold that this process produces no immediate effect upon the operations of the department, but the ultimate effect will be most pernicious. It is beyond question that practically the entire amount of silver dollars will forthwith return to the treasury in payment of duties on imports. No merchant will use gold dollars worth 100 cents, or even 100 cents, for the payment of duties when he can obtain silver dollars, worth only 90 cents, which will answer the same purpose. Even if the treasury pays them out again for ordinary demands or for interest on the public debt, they will at once return to its vaults. So long as the customs receipts exceed in amount the dollars disbursed from the treasury, as they necessarily must at the present rate of coinage, the entire amount will be absorbed in the payment of duties. The only possible way in which they can be kept afloat is for the treasury to pay them out faster than they can be returned for duties—a process which it could not long keep up. There is no benefit to the commercial and industrial interests of the country to be derived from such a game of see saw as this. The only parties benefited are the producers of silver bullion, unless we take account of the advantage which the government derives from issuing 93 cents' worth of silver for the dollar, and which is only weighed a thousand times by the loss which it will ultimately sustain through the substitution of silver for gold in its coin receipts.

President Hayes as a War Man.

[White Sulphur Springs letter to Globe-Democrat.]

It is hinted that President Hayes is decidedly in favor of a war with Mexico, and it is even asserted that in less than three months hostilities will be actually begun. General Henry Heth an ex-Confederate general of note, and likewise a West Pointer, is now in Texas, watching the ride of affairs in this connection, and he, like General Maury and others is willing to go into the war. The people of Texas are burning with a desire to finish their many differences with Mexico. A war with Mexico would be a boon for Texas, as its citizens represent particularly, as a population it is being talked of in southern states. It is argued that such a war will unite the two countries, will do away with the threatened labor troubles, and give employment to many thousands. I, for my own part, do not see any objection to it. It is a legitimate, stabilizing, as it is certainly satisfactory, kind of war. It would be a good thing to have some weight where it could be thrown at once such old soldiers as Generals Maury and Heth.

M. E. CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS.

Fourth Day.

SALEM, Aug. 31, 1878.

The introductory hour of prayer was presided over by Rev. J. Mathews. I. D. Driver opened the conference with reading the Scriptures and prayer.

After reading the minutes by the secretary, Bishop Andrews announced as the first item of business, question 20—Where shall the next conference be held?

Dallas, Vancouver and Portland were nominated, and the advantages of each were fully discussed. The vote was taken and resulted in the choice of Taylor-street church, Portland.

The report of church extension committee was presented by J. F. DeVore. A clause in the report anticipating the time when 200,000,000 of people would occupy the country, called forth a friendly criticism from W. Roberts. Some merriment was excited in the reply of J. F. DeVore: Mr. President, we are under no obligations to furnish the population. The bishop remarked that India was no larger than the area of our country between the Rocky and Allegheny mountains, and yet the population of India is 240,000,000.

The conference stewards reported through J. Hoberg the statistics by districts as to the amount in all of the preachers' salaries and their receipts:

	Portland.	Eugene.	Sound.	Total.
Missionary appts	$ 60 00	$ 00 00	$ 00 00	$ 60 00

On motion the money collected by the church extension society was ordered to be paid to Rev. J. B. Hill to be forwarded by him to the society in New York.

J. Mathews presented the report of the committee on temperance. The following resolutions were appended:

1. That as a conference we utter our united and solemn protest against the iniquitous traffic in intoxicating liquors, and that we hail with delight the advance of the temperance cause, and most heartily acquiesce in every wise measure this good cause may employ for the reclamation of the drunkard and the reclamation of men and children, and especially the children from falling beneath the withering curse of intemperance.

2. That we recommend and earnestly desire all our preachers by all means to promote the interest of the temperance cause, which to day is engaging the attention of philosophers, philanthropists, statesmen, clergymen of all denominations and bands of god-fearing men and women.

The subject was warmly discussed by C. V. Anthony, J. Flinn, I. D. Driver, D. Spaulding, T. Sails and W. Roberts. The report was adopted.

J. L. Parrish reported $17 45 as the whole amount collected for the cause of education. The question was raised as to what disposition should be made of the money. The bishop read the Discipline on the subject which decided the money must go to the parent society at New York.

J. Hoberg reported $100 50 collected for the bishops' fund. It was ordered to be forwarded to New York through Bishop Andrews.

The special committee on church relations reported in effect that persons on the supernumerary list must hereafter, at each conference, present a statement of impaired state of health, or else be requested to locate; and that this action be made known to parties interested, through their respective presiding elders. The report was adopted.

H. Patterson was granted a supernumerary relation.

A committee consisting of N. Doane, I. Chapman and I. D. Driver, was appointed to draft a constitution for an auxiliary educational society, the same to be reported at our next conference.

Bishop announced the transfer to this conference of Rev. D. A. Crowell of Nebraska, and of Rev. Pattee from the Holston conference.

E. A. Judkins was located at his own request, and G. W. Day was granted a supernumerary relation.

The conference requested the bishop to recognize in the appointments Rev. L. J. Powell as superintendent of education for the state of Oregon.

Samuel Driver and S. Asbury Starr, were admitted on trial to the traveling connection.

Conference adjourned to meet at 3 o'clock P. M.

Vancouver seminary was not in operation. Sheridan academy was out of debt and prosperous.

Santiam academy, under L. C. Gilbert, had a year of progress and success.

Umpqua academy, always well patronized, was never more so than the present year under F. H. Grubbs.

The Willamette university, under President Gatch, was reported highly prosperous in all its literary departments. The financial reports of the treasurer showed the institution $2,500 in debt.

The following resolution, appended to the report, elicited a very warm discussion:

Resolved, That in the judgment of this conference no person should be elected a member in any of our schools whose habits as to amusements, are not in harmony with our discipline.

C. V. Anthony, F. P. Tower, J. L. Parrish, I. D. Driver, N. Doane and others took part in the discussion, which was so very typical at times that the bishop had to interpose his authority to quiet the excitement. The report of the usual lingual proprieties. The report was adopted.

The following named persons were elected to fill vacancies in the several boards of trustees:

Santiam Academy—J. Ridgeway, C. A. Ralston, G. H. Bland, Jacob Keer, R. Cheadle and S. A. Nickerson.

Sheridan Academy—Paris McCain, S. C. Foster, E. B. Burley, Wisdom Milsap, Cyrus Buel, G. W. Graves, Wm. Chapman and D. McCaye.

Umpqua Academy—D. B. K. Winford, O. O'Field, James Chenoweth, Jos. Leeper, A. R. Flint, F. E. Hill, John Booth and Jos. McKinney.

Willamette University—E. N. Coe, E. Stroug, J. F. DeVore, J. H. Albert, J. A. Stratton, J. Q. Thornton, G. P. Litchfield, W. H. Watkins, M. D., Jacob Ogle and C. B. Moores.

The bishop referred to his own early experience of the great value of life in Christian school, and urged upon the members of conference that with united and loving hearts they sustain the literary institutions committed to their care.

Sunday.

The conference love feast is one of the most treats enjoyed at this annual re un on. It was opened at 9 o'clock by N. Doane, and continued until the hour of preaching. In quick succession more than thirty persons gave in religious testimony. Among the speakers were Rev. J. B. Hill and his sainted mother from Newark, N. J., and W. P. Ferris, who was Mother Hill's pastor forty years ago. One of the most affecting testimonies was that of Father Moreland, who for more than half a century had been in the habit of attending such meetings, and had seen many of the earlier bishops.

THE BISHOP'S SERMON.

At 10½ o'clock A. M. an unusually large audience greeted Bishop Andrews as he ascended the platform to preach. He took for his subject the Parable of the Ten Talents. In a perfectly easy and natural manner, with clear, close and consecutive thought, the bishop brought out the great lessons of his subject, applicable alike to preachers and people. The occasion will long be remembered.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY.

At 3 o'clock P. M. the Sunday school anniversary came off. The addresses on the occasion were delivered by W. Roberts, Dr. Wythe of California and J. Hoberg. It was a pleasant and profitable hour.

MISSIONARY SERMON.

This was delivered at 7:30 o'clock, P. M., by A. Atwood, of Olympia. His text was, "The Field is the World." The speaker dwelt upon the sphere of missionary operations, the difficulties to be encountered, the objections and encouragements to missionary work, etc. With this annual sermon closed up the great day of this conference assembly.

WARS OF THE WORLD.

A colonel's watch is kept over Minnie Warren's grave to prevent its descrat on by grave robbers.

The Prince of Wales has accepted the honorary membership recently proffered him by the Ancient and Honorable Artillery of Boston.

The Boston Pilot says that the potato crop of Ireland this year is almost as poor as that of 1847, and fears of great distress are entertained.

During the recent heated spell a fair woman of Ithaca and her children arrived themselves in calico and passed nearly the whole of the day in Cascadilla creek under umbrellas.

Ex-Gov. Ames, of Mississippi, son-in-law of Gen. Butler, is now engaged as a commission merchant in the butter and cheese business in New York. He has his fill of politics.

Talleyrand remarked one evening at Holland House that Canning was in "deceived, but did not lie," whereas M. de Metternich, he added, "always lied, but never deceived."

John Humphrey Noyes, the founder and head of the Oneida Community, is a cousin of President Hayes, and the wife of Mr. Howells the editor of the Atlantic Monthly, is his niece.

In "Tancred," written thirty years ago, Mr. Disraeli wrote: "The English won Cyprus, and they will take it as a compensation;" and in another place: "They will not do the business of the Turk for nothing."

Indianapolis Journal: Mrs. Tilton intimates that she will prepare a history of her experience with Mr. Beecher, which she will leave with her husband's friends for publication after her death. If she lets this get out some public benefactor may put her out of the way before she gets it prepared, and thus relieve a long suffering public.

Gath, in a recent letter, says: "By the way seeing that Randall's friends deny that he ever solicited Simon Cameron to spare his district from a gerrymander, I heard Russell Errett and Bob Mackey chuckling a few days ago over the time Randall sent to the Republican convention to beg them not to say anything in the platform against the back-pay grab. 'If you don't refer to it we will say nothing about it.'"

CLEAN AND DIRTY WHEAT.

AUGUST 28, 1878.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

I notice in the report of the board of trade that complaint is made about the wheat that has been hitherto exported from Portland. [illegible] the blame for the damage of themselves. The buyers have never made any material difference in the prices of clean and dirty wheat, consequently a farmer would not have his wheat cleaned if he could sell it, dirt and all, for the same as clean wheat. Had the shippers insisted that every warehouse from which they purchased should have a clean lot, our wheat would never have got the name it now has in Liverpool.

The parties who are now advising warehousemen to "dock" wheat and then send it on to them to be cleaned, certainly never ran a warehouse. No farmer would consent to have his wheat sufficiently "docked" to make it clean, and then lose the cleanings, and no warehouseman would like to ship his wheat to Portland, where lots sometimes get mixed (and they do on steamboats as well) to be cleaned by other parties without any supervision of the owner. There would be a surplus of many sacks left on the warehouseman's hands as well.

The better plan is for the warehouseman to put up a good cleaner of his own. He can put up a Hallman cleaner (the best in the state) and power for less than a thousand dollars, and if he only has fifty thousand bushels of wheat it will pay for itself in one year at the price I proposed—viz: two cents. By this plan the grain will keep in bulk, the warehouseman is saved further trouble, the farmer gains his cleanings for feed, and no cause for dispute or unpleasantness between warehousemen, farmers and shippers, which undoubtedly would be the case under any other arrangement.

I say, let the exporter refuse to buy from any warehouseman who has got no cleaner. The millers can buy that for what it is worth and clean it themselves. WAREHOUSEMAN.

Sutro Tunnel Branches.

[From the Alta California.]

The Sutro tunnel, whatever its advantages may be in the future, appears destined to be one of the institutions of Nevada, and to exhibit life and progress. It is not a great while since it was made to connect with the Comstock lode, and it has been pushed across it to the west wall. Now it starts on an angle toward the southern mines of the lode, and it is reported that it is to be pushed first to the Julia, which will be the first to be benefited by it, and then to other mines along the lode. It is extension of the tunnel is to be of the same bore as the main tunnel, [illegible] the distance to be run before the Julia will be fourteen hundred feet. As soon as contracts satisfactory to parties shall have been completed, another branch northwardly will be commenced to tap the Bonanza and other mines in that direction. The branch toward the Julia commences at a point on the main tunnel nearly twenty thousand feet from the initial of the main tunnel at the town of Sutro. The tunnel is a wonderful result of the application of skill, funds and backbone. It is spoken of here merely as an instance of pluck. If there are, or may be hereafter, any dispute between the company and the mining corporations, that is their own business, not the text of this notice.

SCHOOLS AND WORK

A good many newspapers east and west are finding out at last that there is something radically wrong with our common school system Several agree in the suggestion that there should be a grade of industrial schools something corresponding to our present grammar and high schools where our youth might be taught the elements of skilled labor so that after graduating they would not be compelled to starve or steal or become tramps while looking for some light and genteel employment Arm a young fellow with a trade and you add greatly to his manliness his sense of power and self reliance Send him out without means of earning his bread and however well educated he is in danger of degenerating into a sneak a sharper an agent for fancy soaps and razor straps or something of that kind It is certain that the whole tendency of our present system of higher public schools in cities is to educate the boys to be clerks bookkeepers merchants musicians preachers lawyers doctors and 'gentlemen' when the great mass of them should be machinists blacksmiths carpenters plumbers millers bakers tinners and wagon makers And the demand now is for agricultural schools in the country and in the towns mechanical schools where the sons of mechanics laborers and the middle and poorer classes will be taught how to handle tools and also those scientific elements which are applicable to a great number of skilled avocations

This at first view is plausible but it will fail totally in practical application The remedy does not lie in agricultural or mechanical schools All the elements of labor that may be taught therein are practically worthless The work cannot be made hard steady and thorough enough Not by fancy teaching or theory though it be combined with a little practice can youth be trained to labor and mechanical trades The stern discipline of necessity is the only thing that will suffice Young people as a rule will not work except on this sort of compulsion and a little dilettante labor about industrial schools will not break them to the yoke It will be just enough to chafe them and to make all hard and steady labor distasteful and irksome

The remedy does not rest with society at all There is a rage now for looking to the community to do everything For every acknowledged evil the community must furnish a remedy and enforce it But the fact is that as the fault rests with individuals the remedy must come from them In this case it rests mainly with parents It is the duty of parents to enforce the discipline of labor and not allow their children to grow up in worthless idleness We believe indeed, that everything like a high school which is the feature of our system of public education that does more injury in this direction than anything else, should be banished from our public school system 1. gives opportunity and encouragement to idleness when our youth ought to be learning to work Besides the high school is an innovation upon our common school system It is unknown to the law of our state and of most others and is not only unjust to tax payers but is productive of positive evils The duty of the public is discharged, when it has furnished to all its [illegible] young person it will usually triumph over all obstacles As a rule higher education to be at all valuable, must be gained by oneself If there be nothing in a person which prompts him to seek it and to undergo privations and difficulties to get it it will usually be worth nothing to him and it were far better that he should be insuring himself to some mode of manual labor

STATES OF THE GREENBACK

Commenting on Thurman's recent extraordinary speech in which he prostrated himself in the dust before the Ohio 'fetich' which a little while ago he held up to scorn the New York Times calls attention to this feature of the greenback project which he commended, namely that the proposed issue of $320,000 000 more of greenbacks to replace the national bank notes, would be in direct violation of the constitution as construed by the highest legal tribunal of the land By the St Paul Pioneer Press the authorities are collated in support of this position Going back to the legislation on the subject it finds that there never was an issue of legal tender notes by congress except on the ground that it was a temporary expedient dictated by overwhelming necessity growing out of the struggle for the national existence Mr Spaulding, the author and introducer of the original bill, said 'The bill before the house is a war measure—a measure of necessity and not of choice These are extraordinary times and extraordinary measures are necessary in order to save our government and preserve our nationality Mr Kellogg of Illinois, said 'I treat this emphatically and clearly as a war measure" Thaddeus Stevens chairman of the committee on ways and means said This bill is a measure of necessity and not of choice And every speaker who advocated this bill or any substitute for it, did so as a temporary expedient No one ever intimated that the legal tender notes were to be permanently established as a part of our currency It was a forced loan to be paid as soon as the pressure of our war necessities made it possible In the senate it was advocated uniformly on the same grounds Mr Fessenden said We all know that it was reported to as a temporary measure in consequence of the necessities of the treasury An assertion must be given the country that it is not to be a policy—that it is what it professes to be—but a temporary measure It is put upon the ground of absolute overwhelming necessity Sumner Sherman Chase and others put it on the same ground As for the Democrats they held the measure unconstitutional on all grounds In the legal tender decision the supreme court referred at length to the circumstances and necessities of the government as the grounds which justified the issue of legal tender paper The court said 'Plainly to this inquiry a conclusion of the time when [illegible] circumstances existed which [illegible] the authorization [illegible] the exercise of lawful power and appropriate to it [illegible] sons of exigency which would [illegible] Justice Bradley concurring said It is a power not to be resorted to except in extraordinary [illegible] such as war or other public exigency of great gravity and importance, and should no longer be exercised than the circumstances of the case demand Now here is a clear implication in the language of the court that the greenback was only justified at extraordinary exigency that [illegible] the very grounds on which their issue was defended by all the advocates of the measure in congress No forced loan of this kind in time of peace would be justifiable or have the smallest chance of being sustained

WHO DID IT

It was for Eastern Oregon that Mr Mitchell professes to have made his greatest efforts That the hollowness of it all is understood in that part of the state is evinced by the unusual results of the recent election Heretofore Eastern Oregon has usually sent some Republicans to the legislature But it is a significant fact that this time the entire delegation from both houses from that part of the state is Democratic If we must take not this is the first instance in which such a thing has occurred the people of that part of the state this time took precautions to send to the legislature a solid delegation no one of whom would vote for Mr Mitchell's re-election It therefore appears that they could have had no great confidence that his proposed railroad measures were calculated to help their section of the state In Western Oregon the Republicans would have not less than a dozen additional members of the legislature a number which would give them control of that body had it not been feared that they or some of them might under possible circumstances vote for Mitchell We have no desire whatever to waste time in threshing over the old straw of last spring's political contest These points are simply referred to once more because Mr Mitchell instead of attributing his defeat and the defeat of the Republican party to the unfitness of his own name in the canvass wants to lay the blame elsewhere His party could not carry him and will

Wm H Watkinds is out in the Roseburg Star with another article amplifying his charges against Gov Chadwick Now is the time for the governor to declare in the presence of God and these witnesses that the charges are infamously and unqualifiedly false, and to assert moreover that he would suffer his right arm to be taken off at the socket before he would own up to the least irregularity or indiscretion This is now the most approved way of self vindication

Several months ago we received the communication now published relative to J E Montgomery's interest in the Northern Pacific railroad and his [illegible] toward it Not having to print a communication written in some parts with the downright language therein employed, we laid it aside But since Mr Montgomery is called as a witness on all occasions and is so ready to testify against the views and statements of The Oregonian we now print the letter

Jeremiah S Black, who has been for a considerable time in the west, has low estimate of western Democrats He has no fear about their re-using to accept a hard money man as candidate because they have no views on the subject of finance that are not elastic enough to enable them to rally to the support of any man they may take a fancy to In other words, they are so accustomed to boiled crow that they rather enjoy it

The Boston Post leading Democratic paper of New England opposes vigorously the project of Butler to get the support of his party It says The Democracy of Massachusetts have never been accustomed to pool their issues When they accept the policy they had better haul down the flag and abandon [illegible]

Wendell Phillips and Caleb Cushing are among the signers to petitions sent out asking Butler to stand as independent candidate for governor of Massachusetts

Trying to Live without Work.

The following from the pen of Horace Greeley is true and applicable to this day

Our people are too widely inclined to shun the quiet ways of producing labor and to try to live and thrive in the ero keel paths of speculat on and heedless traffic We have deplorably few boys learning trades with tenfold times the many anxious to get into business —that is to devise some scheme whereby they can live without work O the journeyman mechanics now at work in this city would judge that two thirds were born in Europe and this disparity is steadily augmenting One million families are trying to live by selling liquors tobacco candies etc, in our cities who could be spared therefrom without the slightest detriment and if these were transferred to the soil and set to growing grain meats, wool etc or employed in smelting the metals, or weaving the fabrics for which we are running in debt to Europe our country would increase its wealth at least twice as fast as now and there would be far less complaint of dull trade and hard times

When the child of the Chinese embassy was asked how all the Chinese in America would get back to China he answered according to the Herald, They will all go to Ireland that is the only country that the Irish do not rule

The first foreigner to receive naturalization papers in the United States was John Stanislaus Kriegelstein who died at Attica N Y near Rochester on June 4th 1848 aged 185 years

WHERE THERE IS SO MUCH SMOKE
THERE MUST BE SOME CIGARS!
A Short Cord with a Long Introduction

I HAVE FOR A LONG TIME CONTEMPLATED a change in the style of my business establishing in part not only the 10 cent and 5 cent system with which I already have so liberal an order but also introducing a costlier (though not better) class of goods I cannot do this however without a fixed determination on my part to sell for cash only It is a rule with me I must carry out in order to give my patrons the benefit resulting from such a course Every business man will understand this and if not upheld in it it will become necessary for me to re-establish the old and very unsatisfactory mode and sell a quality of goods which while superior to that generally sold will leave me a percentage to cover losses and delays inevitably resulting from a credit system

Intending to carry out the most approved principles and anticipating as is necessary a dealing out high cost goods a greater increase of patronage I have laid in a supply of cigars of all grades and especially imported Havanas sufficiently large to meet the change

To bring to this market a big assortment of Imported Cigars the genuineness of which I am ready to guarantee involves considerable risk and outlay of money Goods of this description consequence of their sensibility to atmospheric changes must be sold rapidly in order that invoices may [illegible] by a public to whose liberality and long continued patronage I am indebted for my success in business In the future I hope to keep my faith with them as I am confident I have in the past Though my purchases [illegible] to several importing houses I am the authorized agent of

I shall continually increase the assortment deal them out of the original packages and treat all patrons alike caring only to know either for every cigar that leaves the store I have received the cold [illegible] me my friends and patrons will not ask me to violate a rule in which all things considered the odd [illegible] so much in their favor To the trade and box customers rates will be made in accordance with and not purchased anywhere upon My 10 cent cigars will also be of improved quality New York cigars—Herbs & Spices Lillie Londesborough [illegible] manufactures will be sold 3 to 7 for 25 cents and so on a still cheaper

TUESDAY MORNING SEPT 10 1878

CITY.

DEATH OF MR LOWELL.—Mr Daniel W Lowell the whom few are better or more favorably known among steamboat men on the northwest coast departed this life yesterday at St Vincent Hospital after a short illness. Mr Lowell came to this city in the year 1850 on the government steamer Massachusetts. At that time he held the position of purser on the steamer Lot Whitcomb which was the finest and largest boat then running on the Willamette and Columbia rivers. Subsequently Mr Lowell acted as purser on several of the early steamers which at different times were under command of Capt J C Ainsworth. After following steamboating on the Columbia and Willamette rivers for a number of years he caused went over to Puget Sound. While a resident of Washington territory Mr Lowell married the daughter of Dr Willard. A few years ago he had the misfortune to lose his wife. He filled the position of purser on several of the steamers on the Sound very accenably for several years Mr Lowell held the position of clerk for the late Commodore Watson who was in charge of the lighthouse depot at The Lowndale building and for some time by had charge of this lighthouse depot. Deceased also held a position in connection with the coast survey. He was a gentleman possessing superior qualifications for business and was in every position of trust faithful efficient and honest. Mr Lowell was noted for his urbanity uniform courtesy and his very genial disposition. He was known extensively and had a host of warm friends. Sickness overtook him a few years ago, and recently he went to San Francisco to receive medical treatment. He returned to this state a short time ago, and last week was down at the sea side spending a few days. On last Saturday he was seen walking about the streets of Portland. After a very brief illness he quietly passed away to the land of shadows. Many of the old pioneers of this state and Washington territory will learn with a regret that he has gone the way of all flesh. Although we shall no longer see his familiar form and never again in life look at his pleasant face yet the memory of poor Dan will linger like a fragrance not soon to be forgotten, and the remembrance of his many noble qualities of mind and heart will be cherished in the years to come. Peace to his ashes and repose to his soul!

A CHEAP BUT BAD BARGAIN.—We have just heard of an instance which proves the truth of the old saying—'a cheap bargain is not always a good one.' A certain lady, while passing down First street a few days ago, espied a junk store on the opposite side displaying a full set of false teeth. She asked the proprietor the price and being told $2 50, she made him come down one dollar—getting the full set for $1 50, which to all appearances was very cheap. After going home and chuckling over her good bargain, she commenced to put the false teeth which required but a small amount of fact, as her mouth reached from ear to ear very near to it at least. After wearing the false teeth just two weeks, they began to corrode. What must be done? Why try a bottle of Sozodont. To make a long story short, she purchased five dozen of that article, and notwithstanding all the friction used while consuming the above amount of Sozodont, every time she'd open her mouth, you could discover a full inch of tartar. She now thinks she had driven a poor bargain.

ST JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL.—The following additional particulars of the destruction of St Joseph's hospital at Vancouver are learned. The building stood on the corner of Eighth and Reserve streets, and has long been used by the Sisters of Mercy as an hospital. The fire undoubtedly originated from a defective flue in the rear end and burned rapidly. The fire department of the city are entitled to credit for the effort made to save the building and especially for preventing the flames from extending further. Water was pumped 800 feet, and generous help confined the fire to the building only. Fences were soon torn down and the garden and fruit trees destroyed but no further damage resulted. The building was erected some twelve or fifteen years ago, and much relief to the poor and distressed has been rendered within its walls. The total loss will not exceed $2 500 the building being valued at about $1 500 and damage to furniture, etc covering the remainder. A small insurance was on the premises.

RECKLESS SHOOTING.—Two or three individuals indulged in some target practice at each other with pistols on Oak street last evening. Five or six shots being fired in rapid succession had the effect to draw a large crowd together and in the excitement two of the parties escaped, and the one who was arrested refused to divulge the motive or origin of the melee. He however made complaint against one of the participants and after awhile a second arrest was made the captive being a well known citizen who declares he was not present and only ran toward the spot when he heard the shots. The matter will be investigated by the police today. None of the parties drew blood—a fact which is very fortunate and showed that they were very unskillful or terribly scared. Such foolishness ought, however to be suppressed as innocent passers by might occasionally get in range of some of the lead scattered so promiscuously around on a public thoroughfare.

YAQUINA RAILROAD.—A gentleman who has just returned from the Yaquina Bay informs us that work on the railroad between Corvallis and tide water is being crowded forward as rapidly as possible. Under the personal superintendence of Col Kinney (who for a long time was employed by the late Harry Meiggs in South America) the grading has been completed for ten miles and the contract for the ties has been already let. Col T Egerton Hogg, who has been in Europe for some time is expected to arrive and the rolling stock for the distance graded will follow. A letter has been received in this city by W S Ladd from Col Hogg which states that he had purchased 500 tons of iron which would soon be shipped to this place.

SURVEY COMPLETED.—Mr R A Habersham returned to this city a few days ago having completed the survey of the coast in the vicinity of Cape Foulweather to ascertain its fitness as a harbor of refuge. He also made an examination of the Alsea bay at the river as far up as the head of tide water. Mr Habersham speaks very highly of the country tributary to the Yaquina and Alsea rivers.

INSPECTION CRUISE.—Col Wilson and Capt Merriman left this city yesterday morning on the revenue cutter Tom Corwin bound on an inspecting tour. They will visit and inspect all the light stations south of the mouth of the Columbia river as far as the boundary of the state, and also furnish the stations with all necessary supplies. On completing these duties the vessel will return to this city.

CLAVICLE FRACTURED.—Yesterday morning a carpenter named Doggett employed at the stone building at the corner of Second and First streets met with a severe fall sustaining a fracture of the collar bone and dislocation of the arm. He fell from the roof to the second story while descending a ladder with some tools in his hands. Dr Ghisolin was called in and rendered the required services.

GONE TO LOCHSIDE.—Several weeks ago Major Bolton left this city for the purpose of making a survey of Coos Bay. He has completed the survey and returned to this city. He has gone to the head of the bay to the river to lay out town sites there for which an appropriation has been made.

DELAYED.—Several mishaps which occurred yesterday morning in the Oregonian press rooms damage the city and a small portion of the mail editions. This will serve to explain to those who do not receive papers.

WRECK.—The steamship Rio will sail from San Francisco for Portland on Wednesday at 10 o'clock A M. This steamer has been wrecked on the coast of Japan.

ISLAND.—Mr R A Habersham, land superintending engineer of the Columbia river improvements, left this city yesterday morning for Astoria, from which point he will proceed to the mouth of the river on the steamer Wallula.

INQUARANTINE.—The following is from the San Francisco Chronicle of the 7th inst: "The ship Cape Ann from Rio was chartered prior to her arrival to load wheat at Portland, Or. for the United Kingdom. She reports that when six days out Henry McDade able seaman was taken sick with yellow fever and died on the morning of the 8th and was buried the same day. Just one case will be reported at Rio and sent four cases to the hospital. Had several cases on board of a mild form. While she remained in this port she will be quarantined to leave or sail. The infected clothing has been destroyed by the officers of the quarantine station here with a clean bill of health for the Columbia river port of destination."

DOWNIE.—The building and early completion of the Dayton Walla Walla railroad says the Telegram is now decided further. Already the Willamette Iron Works on this city are working night and day making the necessary castings for a saw mill to be erected by Messrs Stone & Grant near Columbus Landing on the Columbia. The mill is expressly built to get out the ties for the above road, and will be in charge of Harry Davis Esq a thorough practical mill man who had charge of mill No 4 whilst he O & C R I was being built. Some twenty men are now on the ground clearing and getting out timber and as soon as everything is in running order seventy five men will find steady employment at the mill.

CANDIDATE FOR CHIEF CLERK.—Mr Thomas Neally present secretary of Columbia Engine Co No 1 a gentleman who has had fifteen years experience in legislative business is prominently and favorably mentioned as candidate for chief clerk in the lower branch of the legislature. He is well qualified to discharge the duties of that responsible position.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—Messrs Creighton & Stearns sold at the court house door yesterday morning lots 1 and 4 block 29 Caruthers addition. Lot 4 was knocked down to Mr R Cunningham, for $280. Lot 1 corner of Fifth and Grant streets was bought by Mr L W Gilliland for $450.

Mr David Monnastes returned Saturday from a month's trip to Victoria and vicinity. He reports having experienced a very pleasant time hunting and fishing and returns in greatly improved health.

Under date of August 19th a letter has been received here from James A Smith, who is at present in New York. He says he is having a splendid time and will probably not start home before the 1st of October. Mr Smith says the weather is dreadful warm there. His feet are blistered with the heat, he wears three collars per day and declares that his clothes have not been dry since he arrived in that city.

The San Francisco Call of the 5th says "Colonel T E Hogg of Oregon who went to Europe some months ago to stir up immigration to Oregon passed through this city today homeward bound, and reported that the prospects for European immigration to his state are very poor as those who had intended to go to Oregon have abandoned the idea as they have been scared by the Indian troubles and therefore he gave up his efforts in that direction.

J B MONTGOMERY

HIS LOVE FOR AND HIS INTEREST IN THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD—A LARGE STOCK HOLDER, LIMES OFF INTO SIDE CLOUDINESS.

WASHINGTON March 5 1878.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

One of the organs in your state here attempts to blackmail with eight different conspicuous headlines and a triple headed introduction full of contemptible and gushing publication of an unsigned letter written by a member of the Portland Board of Trade now in Washington who is a large stockholder in the Northern Pacific Railroad and a member of one of the heavy American firms of Portland which firm is also a member of the Board of Trade.

There are more than one marks to both the writer of this letter and the gentlemanly journalistic hair splitting mendacious scamp who unveil the author by Mr Montgomery and I have written me James B Montgomery and I have written me says the organ in its introductory gush.

This gentleman says the Northern Pacific bill as now reported is opposed by every delegate from the northwest and if their demands are not conceded the result will be the defeat of the Northern Pacific extension bill and his statement came from a man who has no less says and we have every reason to believe one hundred and eighty thousand dollars of stock in the Northern Pacific.

Immediately on reading this letter I telegraphed to a friend in New York City to go to the Northern Pacific railroad office and ascertain how much stock in the corporation Montgomery owned. He did so and wrote to me that on the morning of March 20th James B Montgomery stood on the stock ledger of the Northern Pacific company as the owner of 616 shares of preferred and 1 319 shares of common stock. What his moneyed interest in the great corporation is can be arithmetically determined by the present quotations of Northern Pacific stock on the Philadelphia stock exchange. The preferred is $50 the common is $2. Did ever a large stockholder limp off into more ridiculous insignificance.

It is an astonishing thing that Montgomery's utterances should be used even anonymously in Portland. For his character and motives must be known there. It must be known that he is impelled to his warfare on the Northern Pacific enterprise by the disappointment of his ambition to manage it on the Pacific coast and the miscarriage of his plans to enrich himself out of a princely income with the corporation which he thought two and successively in its board of director would permanently give him. His speculations as a contractor to build forty miles of its road were ripped to pieces exposed to light and cut down to truth. He will hate it till he die the shameful way that he did his duty to the corporation. He made war on him to blacken his fame and drive him from the superintendency of the Pacific division of the road. He soon pursued him with additional virulence to get his place. The company managing director on the Pacific coast was C Ainsworth. Montgomery did his utmost to win the regard of this man to his fight against General Sprague. To be sure, he never but once put his yellow paw on the clean man's sense of honor and love of justice. He quickly recoiled from the scorn and indignation of a true gentleman solicited to do a base deed, and from distant covert ground his teeth for a line of tireless barking, snapping and biting. How in this warfare he finally came to grief at the board room of the Northern Pacific railroad company is a matter of record. On its books he stands impaled by unanimous resolution as a malicious falsifier and slanderer.

It is a wonderful thing in the growth of a state that a man like Montgomery can be a factor for large evil. Yet of it is. He has the talent of relentless hate. That is his ability. He is leading in his utmost viciousness to the aces of Senator Mitchell. To this rascally warfare on the Northern Pacific engineered by Jay Gould the largest owner of the Union Pacific your townsman James B Montgomery lends himself, by running in Willard's hotel a factory of falsehoods on paper which he sends to Oregon for publication—to help Mitchell secure his re-election to the U S senate.

There is not a shadow of truth in Montgomery's statement that the Northern Pacific after building east from Snake river to Helena will cede its entire line division (1 to the Oregon Steam Navigation Company. It is the wildest falsehood this prize falsifier ever concocted. This evening called on President Charles S Wright and asked him if there was a compact or an understanding, an arrangement informal or formal expressed or implied, that the Oregon Steam Navigation Company should build 200 miles for the Northern Pacific east of the mouth of Snake and get $10 000 a mile in bonds, secure first on the road between Kalama and Tacoma and second, on five millions of Pacific coast land? Mr Wright laughed and said: "On that is one of Montgomery's inventions. There is no such contract no such arrangement." I noticed an aversion in Mr Wright to talk about Montgomery so I did not ask him how much truth there was in this paragraph of this letter published out in Oregon.

You know it is not my interest to decry or annoy the Northern Pacific. I have $1 0 000 of bonds (now preferred stock) and $40,000 of common stock in the Northern Pacific road. You know it would not be to my interest to destroy that road by recommending legislation adverse to its interest but I express the views of a large number of the stockholders of the Northern Pacific when I say that they themselves are demanding that the construction of the Portland division be commenced at Kalama or Portland.

I personally know that that paragraph is false from beginning to end as I personally know that Montgomery's motive for much of his warfare on the Northern Pacific was resentment of President Wright's bringing J C Ainsworth back into the board of direction.

Yes you must be a clever people out in Oregon, to be influenced to do this atmospheric injury to your material interests by a man without a stake in your community who you know stands what money he started with out of the trouble and misfortunes of his county, who went to the Pacific coast to become a millionaire out of Northern Pacific railroad contracts and boasted through Pomeroy Kansas that he would come back United States senator from Oregon who is known up your coast for its moral annals and philosophy of its declaration that he did not care a cent on at what price he took contracts so long as he could get control of the certificates. If you are a just people to punish with deserved contempt and disgrace such a man's brutal falsehoods and display with larger type his malignant attempt to kill the only railroad enterprise that gives Oregon any hope of connection with the east and emancipation from California. And you will be cheered yet if you reflect Mr Mitchell to the United States senate. He is earning the favor of Jay Gould's purse and without repairing. He is building his nest to kill the only transcontinental railroad that will ever be built to bind with eastern sentimental and eastern brains. It he defeats the Northern Pacific Oregon will build her own railroad to the east side of the Rocky Mountains or forever go without one.

ASTORIA NOTES.

Several of our prominent business men are in San Francisco buying their fall and winter stock.

A wedding on the tapis for this week, in which our fun seeking elect will assume a prominent part.

The fog horn at Point Adams is kept in constant use owing to the dense fogs which prevail of late.

The fall salmon have commenced coming in so reported several fish much this morning. One boat getting 50 fish on a haul.

The steamer Bee arrived down at 6 P M on the last tide and went to sea at 8 A M in tow with a full freight and passengers list.

The tug Active was out on the bar last Saturday looking for some belated vessels but will be in our midst again on the first of next.

Capt Cousins is building a large fireproof brick warehouse on his city land corner of Duane and Exchange streets.

The little daughter of Mrs Dr Gantt who was so severely injured a few days ago by falling from the porch of her residence is regained consciousness and there is some hopes of her recovery.

The steamer tug Rip Raw Hide took a large party of excursionists to Baker's Bay on the 1st for the purpose of some cod fishing and a jolly good time was experienced by all. Capt Wm Whitcomb at the wheel.

Mr H Hughes is in the city settling up the business in connection with closing up the Seaside House at Gearhart for the season of 1878. Mr Hughes informs me that the business this year at that resort was all that the most expectant could be and that each day gives the house an increase of guests.

Our city has taken up the universal cry that is now going the rounds of bad water and it is not only bad water with us but we can't get any although we have three companies supplying the town. The fire engine had to be hauled to three separate places on Saturday evening to get water to fill her boiler.

Quite an exciting foot race took place here on Saturday afternoon between Buffington and Morgan—sixty yards best two in three, twelve minutes time between heats. Pools sold well to the amount of $100 and betting on the outside was very heavy. I am told in fact that $300 changed hands on the race. Morgan being the winner getting the best of matters.

Several of our young gentlemen came very near meeting with serious injury on Friday evening last by attempting to play a practical joke on our senator elect Hon C W Fulton. Mr Furgeson's room mate, being absent at about 8 A M they went to his room door and demanded admittance but being refused used Mr Furgeson's name. Mr Fulton however knowing it was no friend who spoke told them to leave. Their attempt to force an entrance still further aroused the ire of Mr Furgeson who from the inside of the room but the click, click of the trigger of a double barreled shot gun told the intruders that danger when they descended in a hurry.

The Astoria fire department was out on Saturday evening to an impromptu drill in full force at the sounding of an alarm by order of acting Chief Engineer Gray and some good work was done by the entire department. No 2 with their new Silsby steamer ran three blocks planted and threw water with 300 feet of hose in two minutes. Good work and at 10 o'clock P M the entire department filed into the banquet hall of Leander's and partook of an excellent oyster supper given by ex Chief J H D Gray 1st Assistant J F Forbes Assistant H Stoop and our new Chief elect C J Trenchard. King Carnival reigned supreme unto the wee sma' hours when three times three were given for our new chief and the crowd disbanded.

HONORS TO AN AMERICAN MANUFACTURER.—A grand testimonial medal from the societe beaux Arts, Paris has been received from Steinway & Sons New York and accompanied by the following remark from the president. "The pianos of Steinway & Son appear to me, as well as to all the artists who have tried them, superior to all that have been made to this day in the entire world." These beautiful pianos, which are the leading instruments of the whole world and the favorites of all the first class pianists can be procured by calling at Albert Bartsch's sole agent, 209 Third street, between Taylor and Salmon, Portland, Oregon.

Davidson Brothers stop to the front with a big reduction in the prices of photo work. Card photographs $1 50 and cabinets $3 per dozen. Their special artist for outside work—Mr A H. Wutzen—has no equal in the state.

Mrs Dr Burr, Homeopathic physician and Electrician has removed to the large and commodious rooms in the building of the Young Men's Christian Association, First street between Alder and Morrison.

D H Talbot of Sioux City Iowa the well known GOVERNMENT LAND SCRIP DEALER will be at the St Charles hotel Portland on Wednesday September 4th where any desiring can purchase soldiers additional homestead scrip for the location of any lands subject to homestead or preemption. No settlement is required the scrip gives all title and deed as soon as presented at any U S land office. It can be located up to the $1 25 or $2 50 land and is worth $2 per acre cash for $1 50 while part time is given. Instructions at special rates. Call and see for yourself, or write to him at once for particulars.

TO THE PUBLIC.

It unwillingly becomes my duty to inform the public that a certain would be high toned competing firm are now through jealousy resorting to falsehood and villification in order to gain patronage entirely by reputation for fair dealing with customers has never yet been questioned by my patrons and I have remained for this village to attempt by falsehood to injure my real legitimate and honorably conducted business. I have always sold goods cheaper than they could be purchased elsewhere, and I am now determined to make further reductions. The public can as heretofore find at my establishment a full line of first class goods at most reasonable prices. Call and be convinced.

An Undeniable Truth.

You deserve a sick headache if you don't use Dr Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. They are entirely vegetable, purely and perfectly harmless in any case for any one, and a positive cure for sick headache, biliousness, and kindred derangements of the stomach and bowels. Sold by druggists. 25 cents a vial.

ANOTHER CHALLENGE.

Last week I proposed to play Multnomah Engine No 2 (by consent of their officers on fire service drill against Willamette No 1 and that challenge has not been accepted. A committee of five competent men was to be selected and under their directions the engines were to be played. Nothing could be fairer. What I claim for the Silsby and challenge Willamette No 1 to a public test is:

1 First No 1 Silsby engine can handle more water with 100 pounds of steam than No 1 can with 120 or 130 pounds. The amount picked by her officers at the Pentland test engines brought 1 000 or 2 000 or 3 000 feet of hose.

The test will throw a solid stream of water through 300 000 000 or 5 000 feet of hose a greater distance and to a higher elevation and longer.

The test will throw two streams of water solid through 600 or 700 feet of hose to greater distance.

I shall throw the first stream through any amount of hose.

I will add to this the opinion of ex Chief Engineer F H Ivy who was instrumental as ex Chief A B Hull and ex Chief L Holman.

The steadiness and solidity of a stream is what tells on a fire and as the Silsby fully meets these requirements I am cheerfully recommend this style of engine as one best adapted for general use in fire departments.

J H LYON.

As I desire to settle test the lasting quality of the Silsby the test to be in each case one hour up to twenty four if desired.

RICH DEVELOPMENTS IN THE MONUMENTAL MINE.

The foreman of the Monumental Mine sends the following report of the progress of work and developments made to the office of the company under date of August 26:

I send you six bottoms from assays made to-day from the ore in the upraise. The ledge is 16 inches wide and is the best average pay I have ever seen. I assayed the poorest as well as the richest and these buttons are the result. Drifting now 140 feet north drift No 1 now 115 feet drift on ledge No 2 now 75 feet in and now 35 feet ledge No 1 is widening and looking well.

The buttons referred to were weighed in the city yesterday and gave the following results: $16 for piece 1; $3 00; $1 44; $1 20; $1 20; $1 05; $1 and $8 18 an average of over $2 000 of silver per ton.

The fact that the ore can be worked into bullion at $1 and 50 per cent of the assay value, and at an expense of $10 per ton makes the value of the mine beyond estimation. It is evident that Granite Creek district where the mine is located justifies all that the company claimed for it in their prospectus—that of being one among the most extensive silver mining districts discovered.

While the shares are cheap and no assessment to be found on the company are only selling a limited number to be expended in the further development of the mine it would be a penny wise policy for our citizens to secure an interest. A great many experiments daily to be in Eastern Oregon upon silver bearing leads and it is important that our own citizens should have a share of the coming values which will pass them if they do not take time by the forelock and secure an interest at this time in what is soon to become the Northwest bonanza.

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 3, 1878.

A TENDER MEMORY.

A little footstep pattering on the floor,
A golden head laid gently on my knee;
A shadow darkening all the earth and sky,
And life is sad and desolate to me.

Sweet lips half parted in a peaceful smile;
The light of God upon that baby brow;
A hush upon the tiny waxen face—
Our darling's but a tender memory now.

Our grief nigh spent, we try to calmly think,
Totask ourselves as half sternly—Is it right
That we should mourn that to eternal rest
Her infant form was laid by us to-night?

In later years her footsteps might have turned
Aside from paths that point the heavenly gate;
Perchance she might have heard the awful words:
"You cannot enter now—too late—too late."

And, now? Ah, yes! our darling calmly sleeps:
Earth holds for her nor hope, nor grief, nor loss;
Another life has gained the pardon won,
With such deep pain upon the bitter cross.

—Chambers's Journal.

Among the peculiarities of courting in Texas is that the "young feller" is occasionally asked to step outside the house and hold an apple or potato for the girl's brothers to shoot at, and it is considered highly unbecoming a boot to comply. It is equally worthy that the well-to do young suitor never gets hit.

The Maine Republicans, discarding all other issues for the time, are making a square fight against the greenback heresies, and have enlisted the sympathies and expect the votes of a large body of Democrats who are sound on financial questions.

Cincinnati Commercial: A Minnesota woman has lost two husbands by lightning. She ought to marry a conductor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—3 P. M.—5s closed 6¼; 4½s closed 3¾.

There is nothing specially new in local finances the demand being quite brisk, but the enquiry is readily met without much tendency to a pressure in the market. Grain buyers are doing an increasing amount of business, and the distribution of capital through the means of that branch of trade is having an effect which should soon be perceptible in increased remittances from the interior.

Tonnage.

The supply of tonnage arrived and en route to San Francisco continues large and rates for charters from that port to Liverpool have declined to £2, at which five or six charters were effected last week. Other vessels could probably find engagements at the same figure, but ship-owners have telegraphed their agents to ask higher prices. Hence as the very latest mail advices the freight market was quiet and both shippers and ship owners were showing but little disposition to make concessions. There have been no later charters for loading from this port.

The shipments of wool, wheat, flour and salmon from this port for San Francisco during the month just closed have been very large, and producers and shippers have realized somewhat handsomely from the moderate freights per steamers.

The Wheat Market.

Is active at $1 56@1 57½ per cental, and there is quite a large movement of the cereal toward tide water. The demand for good shipping and choice lots is brisk, though there is an apparent lack of any speculative feeling in the market. Advices from abroad are indicative of a firm feeling and the prediction is made that when the results of the harvest in the principal centers of supply are more definitely known, the European markets will assume even a stronger tone than at present. The shrewdest dealers, however, are not inclined to operate largely with a view to any material advance, believing that the general production has been as heavy as was anticipated. In our own state the threshing is progressing finely, and the yield above the average with a considerably increased acreage. Hauling to points on the rivers and railroads is quite active.
